Highlights for Children, Oct96, Vol. 5 1 Issue 10, p6, lp, 1 bw

This story is available through EBSCO HOST Primary Search. If your school is a MOREnet customer, you may access the passage through the EBSCO HOST site. Please choose Primary Search.

Complete the search screen as shown below.

The screenshot shows the EBSCOhost Primary Search page in a Microsoft Internet Explorer browser window. The address bar displays a URL starting with 'http://ehost.vw6.epnet.com/ehost1.asp?key=204.179.122.141:8000...'. The page features a navigation bar with buttons for 'New Search', 'Subject Search', 'Magazine Search', 'Company Directory', 'Choose Databases', 'Online Help', and 'Home Library'. Below this, the 'Databases: Primary Search' section is active. The search input field contains the text 'ight and ights'. To the right of the input field is a 'Search' button. Below the input field is a 'Clear' button. A message states: 'For a Boolean search, enter keywords you wish to find. Separate keywords with and, or, or not. For search examples, see Search Tips.' The 'Limit Your Search' section includes a 'Full Text' checkbox, a 'Magazine' dropdown menu set to 'highlights', a 'Date Published' range selector with 'Month' and 'Yr' dropdowns, and a 'Pamphlets' checkbox. The 'Expand Your Search' section includes two checkboxes: 'also search for related words' and 'also search within full text articles'.

WRITING

Directions

Read the prompt in the box below.

Machines, robots, or computers do a lot of things that used to be done by people. Write a story about a make-believe place where everything is done by machines, robots, or computers.

Use the space below for your prewriting activity (such as brainstorming, listing, freewriting, clustering, mapping, or drawing). You should use the prewriting activity that you usually use in class to plan your writing. Your work on this page will not be scored.

Go On

Directions

Write the first draft of your paper on Pages 4 through 6. Look back at the prompt and your prewriting activity for ideas.

DRAFT

FINAL COPY

Directions

Now you have time to revise your draft. Reread your draft and think about the Writer's Checklist below. Check every box that makes a true statement about your draft.

Writer's Checklist

CI My paper has a beginning, a middle, and an end.

CI My paper stays on the topic.

CI My paper has complete sentences.

CI My paper includes correct punctuation, capitalization, and spelling.

For every box you did not check, make the needed changes on your draft before you write your final copy on Pages 9 through 11.

FINAL COPY

Item: 1
Page: 5
Content Standard(s): CA2
Process Standard(s): 3.5

Item 1:

Describe the weather in the story. Then explain why the weather is important to the story. Use information from the story in your answer.

Example of a top score-point response:

weather

- There was a big thunderstorm/rainstorm.

OR

- Lightning flashed-/Thunder boomed./Rain poured down.

importance

- That is probably why the lights went out.

Score Points:

2 points Response includes a description of the weather and explains why it is important to the story.

1 point Response includes either a description of the weather OR an explanation for why it is important but not both.

0 points other

Session: 1
Item: 2
Page: 5
Content Standard(s): CA2
Process Standard(s): 3.5

Item 2:

Read this sentence from the story:

Lights always go out after homework.

Why does the boy think this? What does he think about doing homework? Use information from the story in your answer.

Example of a top score-point response:

It would be better if the lights went out before it was time to do homework. That way he wouldn't have to do homework. He probably does not like to do homework or would rather do something else.

Score Points:

- 2 points Response tells why the boy says (or thinks) what he does and explains what he thinks about homework.
- 1 point Response tells why the boy says what he does OR explains what he thinks about homework, but does not include both components of the question.
- 0 points other

GENERAL SCORING NOTE: Student may reverse the order of his answers and still receive full credit, i.e., “what” may come before “why” in terms of sequence.

Session: 1
Item: 3
Page: 6
Content Standard(s): CA2
Process Standard(s): 1.5

Item 3:

When the lights go out, the mom says the following:

“Oh no!...Oh, my beautiful angel softies! They’re deflating!”

What are angel softies? What information in the story explains what they are?

Example of a top score-point response:

- Angel softies are some kind of food because Mom goes to look at them in the oven.
OR
- They are some kind of craft item such as a decoration, t-shirt with an angel, etc., that needs to be baked, since they are in the oven and “puff” up.

Score Points:

- 2 points Response accurately describes a “softie” as a food or craft, and makes a correct reference to the oven-or cooking/baking/heating-or other cooking process.
- 1 point Response accurately describes a “softie” as a food or craft (only) OR makes a correct reference to the oven-or cooking/baking/heating-or other cooking process (only).
- 0 points other

GENERAL SCORING NOTE: Response must provide a logical deduction.

Session: 1
Item: 4
Page: 6
Content Standard(s): CA2
Process Standard(s): 1.5

Item 4:

Besides talking, what is ONE thing each of the characters in the story did to keep busy after the electricity went out?

Examples of top score-point responses:

Mom

- read a story aloud
- listened to a story
- named things that need electricity
- talked about vacation

Dad

- told a story he had heard from Grandpa when he was a boy
- ate crackers with peanut butter
- listened to a story
- named things that need electricity
- talked about vacation

Boy

- fixed crackers with peanut butter
- ate crackers with peanut butter
- hugged the dog
- listened to some stories
- named things that need electricity
- talked about vacation

Score Points:

2 points Response includes version of one example of what each character did to keep busy.

1 point Response includes version of one example for one or two characters (only).

0 points other

GENERAL SCORING NOTE: Response must include more than just one brief activity for each character. For example, responses describing cursory activities such as “checked the oven,” “turned off switches,” “looked out the window” would not receive credit. Student must make reference to activities that someone would do to keep busy.

NOTE: Responses involving talking are acceptable if they are specific as listed in the examples. The response cannot merely state that they talked.

Session: 1
Item: 5
Page: 7
Content Standard(s): CA4, CA2
Process Standard(s): 2.1

Item 5:

In your own words, tell a younger student what happens in the story “The Night the Lights Went Out.”

Example of a top score-point response:

There was a big thunderstorm and after dinner the lights went out. The boy had finished doing his homework, but Dad couldn’t watch the playoffs or work on his computer. Mom’s angel softies she had in the oven didn’t puff up. Mom lit a candle, and the dog licked the boy’s neck. There was no electricity, so there was no television and no sounds that appliances usually made. The family ate cold snacks, and read and told stories by candlelight.

Score Points:

- 2 points Response shows evidence of summarizing or retelling that includes important events and activities of the main characters.
- 1 point Response is a partial summary or retelling that may include too much focus on one aspect of the story, or leaves out some important aspect(s) of the story.
- 0 points other

Session: 1
Item: 13
Page: 15
Content Standard(s): CA2
Process Standard(s): 1.6,1.8

Item 13:

When the cat in the poem was small, he could fit inside the shoebox. In EACH empty circle, write a word or words that describe what the cat is like today.

Example of a top score-point response:

Other acceptable responses may include:

- big paws
- too big for the shoebox

Score Points:

2 points Response includes version of three examples.

1 point Response includes version of one or two examples.

0 points other

GENERAL SCORING NOTE: References to the cat's not recognizing/realizing his own changes would receive credit. For example: "The cat has really big feet. The cat is kind of chubby. And the cat doesn't think he's changed." This would receive full credit.

Session: 1
Item: 14
Page: 15
Content Standard(s): CA2
Process Standard(s): 3.5

Item 14:

Is the cat happy even though he doesn't sit in his box? How can you tell? Use two examples from the poem in your answer.

Examples of top score-point responses:

The cat is happy because:

- The cat purrs.
- The cat closes its eyes and dreams like it used to when it was little.
- The cat is in its favorite place (shoebox).
- He still feels the same.
- He doesn't think he's changed.

Score Points:

2 points Response states (or implies) that the cat is happy and gives a version of two examples.

1 point Response states (or implies) that the cat is happy and gives a version of one example.

0 points other

GENERAL SCORING NOTE: Examples may be derived from the illustration. For example: "He is a happy cat because he is in his most favorite place. Also, he looks very comfortable in the picture." This would receive full credit.
